Carrying on from last years successful quiz hosted by NPP at the NCCC conference we will again be testing your chemical and trivial knowledge (no pressure!). This year, to promote interaction between people who might otherwise not meet each other NPP will be providing FREE DRINKS for all those who participate in the quiz. This is of course in addition to the fabulous prizes we have for the lucky winners .

NPP Survey

The NPP survey is STILL OPEN for any of you who have not had the chance to complete it yet. Please find the time to do so to that NPP can better find out what you, the PhDs, want from us.

There is still a prize for one lucky participant as a token of NPP's appreciation.

Ends 6th March so hurry.

Coming up this year

Coming this year NPP have several fun and informative events planned with enough choice that everyone can find something to enjoy.

1) This year there will be an industrial visit to one of the major chemical research institutions in the Netherlands. The details of the date and location will be made available when all details are finalised. Travel will be reimbursed by NPP however.

CAIA Exam

NPP will be giving a borrel to those of you attending the CAIA exam in Utrecht on the 23 February . The drinks will begin at 16.30 when the exam ends and are a great opportunity to relax with your fellow sufferers of chemistry overload.

Directions will be clearly posted from the exam to the venue so there is no need to worry about missing it.

2) The NIOK soccer tournament will continue again this year but will be expanded to include another sport; chosen, by you, from the results of the NPP survey. The tournament will be preceded by a BBQ of course.

3) NPP also plan a summer social/academic day combining a fun activity chosen by you in our survey with a useful and informative scientific course.
